TARIFF BILL WILL

Alabama, has reduced the Demo-cratic majority on the bill to one vote, the Louisiana Senators having deter-mined to vote against it because of the mined to vote against it because of the free sugar provision. This slender majority has given rise to hopes in Republican breasts that they may be able to put through an amendment to the wool or sugar schedules. The switch of one Democratic vote more would turn the trick unless a successor to of one Democratic vote more would turn the trick, unless a successor to Senator Johnston is named at once. Democratic Senate leaders insist, how-ever, that the forty-eight votes they have will stand firmly against any Republican amendments. The sugar schedule is the next to be taken up, and discussion of it probably will begin to-ing changes yesterday, as complete and official reports came in, were the growth of Mr. Pollard's vote in Augusta, Bedford, Campbell, Powhatan, Prince William and other counties.

Attitude of Silence.

Judge Williams maintained his attitude of official silence yesterday. He discussed the election pleasantly with those who called, admitted that on the face of returns so far in he seemed to be beaten, but made no statement conceding defeat. He has indicated that he will withhold any such action until the official canvass of the votes by the State committee. His campaign headquarters had closed, and his chief clerk, T. Gray Haddon, who kept on figuring to the last in the hope that belated precincts might change.
